STUDY GROUP CORNER

February 2022

Study groups were slowly coming back to life and then Omicron came on the scene. It was so wonderful to be together in person and some groups are still doing so. For those of you who do not want to personally meet, we can set up Zoom meetings for you.

Some of the On The Town groups have been going on outings with smaller groups but every size group has its own good dynamic.

Pending group ideas keep coming in and some of the groups are getting close to having enough people to meet. If you are at all interested in any pending group, please let us know. The sooner we hear from you, the sooner we may be able to get your group going.

Please feel free to contact me with any Study Group questions.
